A person constructing his own home without the aid of a licensed contractor may secure a permit on only one (1) residence in any two (2) year period and the construction of more than one (1) residence by said person in any two (2) year period shall be presumed to have been for resale.

(c) The following shall not be deemed to be contractors, as the term "contractor" is used in this chapter:

- (1) Owners making repairs, alterations, additions, or improvements to their residence or commercial/business, including buildings accessory thereto which do not involve the structural elements of the building. The term "owner" means any person, firm, corporation, or agent having a legal or equitable interest in the property. This license entitles a contractor to perform Class B and Class C category work, but not electrical, plumbing, mechanical/HVAC or gas pipe fitting which requires specific licensing to perform such work as provided in this title.
- (2) Class B—residential contractor. This license shall entitle the holder thereof to contract for the construction, alteration, additions or repair of one- and two-family residential structures and accessory buildings. This license entitles a contractor to perform Class C category work, but not electrical, plumbing, mechanical/HVAC or gas pipe fitting which requires specific licensing to perform such work as provided in this title.
- (3) Class C—limited contractor. This license shall entitle the holder thereof to perform the work described in this section. Work for which a Class C license is required is defined as follows: blacktop; concrete; doors; drywall; excavation; fire suppression; framing; handyman services; home repair services; roofing; siding; sprinkler systems; tape and texture; windows and woodstoves; and miscellaneous. The Building Official may create and/or delete Class C license categories as the need arises.
- (4) Tree trimmer. Any person who trims, cuts or removes trees, branches of trees, bushes or shrubbery, engaging such services for compensation or other consideration, is hereby declared to be a tree trimmer.

(b) A contractor license is issued to the owner of a sole proprietorship or to an individual with the correct credentials as a master of record for a partnership, corporation, association, or other business entity to perform work according to the particular contractor license classification. A master of record shall be designated as the license holder for every business entity. Contractor licenses are issued for the term of one (1) year by the Building Official.

(c) A business entity which changes its name or master of record shall be considered to operate without a license until the change is reported to the Building Official. Changes shall be reported by the business entity and/or the master of record to the Building Official within thirty (30) days of any changes.

(d) A business entity which changes its form to create a new legal entity requires a designation of a master of record for the new entity. An example would include the incorporation of a sole proprietorship or the creation of a partnership or limited liability company. One (1) of the owners of the new entity, such as a stockholder or director of a corporation or a manager of a limited liability company, may qualify as master of record. The license may be transferred to the extent that a new fee shall not be charged.

(e) A master of record must pass the required license test for the contractor classification for which the license application is made.

(f) The Building Official shall prescribe the test or tests required for the issuance of a license for each contractor classification, and shall review applications for licenses under this chapter. The determination of eligibility for license or other matters pertaining thereto shall be made by the Building Official. Applications for a contractor's license shall be on such forms and all applicants shall furnish such information as the Building Official may prescribe.

Failure to maintain public liability insurance as required shall result in immediate suspension of a contractor's license until such time as the required insurance is obtained and proof thereof provided to the Building Official.

- (h) The Building Official may disqualify an applicant for a license if:
 - (1) The application is incomplete, inaccurate, or contains misleading or false information; or
 - (2) The applicant has performed work without a contractor's license required in this chapter, after receipt of notice from the Town that a license is required.

(b) No contractor license shall be renewed unless the applicant has passed the licensing test currently required for the contractor license classification for which application has been made; provided, however, the applicant shall not be required to pass the licensing test if the applicant had previously passed the required licensing test and can provide satisfactory proof of such passage.

(c) A contractor who fails to reapply for a license at the one (1) year anniversary date of the license shall surrender his license and the same shall be deemed to be null and void.
